Statement

- Your three o'clock appointment is here.
 - (A) Thanks, I'll be right there.
 - (B) On the calendar.
 - (C) A three-point increase.
- Several of us are trying to organize a book club.
 - (A) Can anyone join it?
 - (B) A well-known organization.
 - (C) We read that book last month.
- 3. We're going to run out of paper soon.
 - (A) I just ordered more.
 - (B) I'm going with you.
 - (C) A box of office supplies.
- Mr. Yamada already prepared the press release.
 - (A) It'll be repaired shortly.
 - (B) One of our biggest clients.
 - (C) May I have a copy?
- 5. I still haven't managed to reach Ms. Chung about resetting her password.
 - (A) Both letters and numbers.
 - (B) She's still out of town.
 - (C) The managing director, I believe.
- I didn't realize the museum was closed today.
 - (A) Yes, it's nearby.
 - (B) Admission is ten dollars.
 - (C) We can go another time.

- This printer seems to run out of ink faster than the old one.
 - (A) At least twenty copies.
 - (B) I'll bring it to you.
 - (C) Yes, I wonder why.
- We should buy some more chairs for the lobby.
 - (A) Do we have enough money in the budget?
 - (B) There's a long line for a table.
 - (C) I'll go ahead and cancel it.
- This filing system isn't very efficient.
 - (A) It's in the folder on my desk.
 - (B) Yes, it's an official request.
 - (C) Do you have any ideas to improve it?
- 10. The sun's finally come out.
 - (A) The weather report.
 - (B) Sunday at six o'clock.
 - (C) Then let's go for a walk.
- 11. Excuse me, I need to change my destination from Osaka to Tokyo.
 - (A) The luggage department is upstairs.
 - (B) I don't need to go there.
 - (C) Let's see if there are any seats.
- 12. Mr. Johnson seems so busy lately.
 - (A) Why is that?
 - (B) Can he find a new one?
 - (C) It was finished early.